

OFFICIAL STATEMENT TO ISSUERS

Antananarivo, October 15, 2025

Calm is back in Madagascar!

Madagascar is fully accessible to visitors, with all tourist areas, heritage sites, natural parks, and coastal areas open to the public.

At the present moment, no more public demonstrations have been reported anywhere in the country.

From Diego Suarez to the capital Antananarivo and on to Tulear, the streets are returning to calm and daily life is resuming its normal course, both day and night.

The journey keeps on

All over October, tourist tours and holidays happened under normal conditions, with no incidents being reported. Visitors were able to pursue discovering Madagascar's landscapes, biodiversity, and cultural richness in complete safety.

The whole sphere of tourism in Madagascar—tour operators, guides, hospitality sector, travel agencies, and transport companies—remains fully mobilized to ensure the continuity and quality of services, showing professionalism and flexibility in managing unforeseen events.

Air and sea transport operational

All airlines operating to and from Madagascar continue their international, regional, and domestic flights, with the exception of one.

Occasional schedule adjustments may still occur, but a full return to normal is expected in the coming days.

All airports and trading ports in the country are open and fully operational, ensuring the continuity of passenger arrivals and departures.

Tourist sites and attractions open

Tourist sites, both natural and cultural—whether on land or at sea—are accessible and open to the public. National parks, nature reserves, islands, beaches, and historical or cultural sites welcome visitors under normal conditions.

From the turquoise waters of Nosy Iranja to the sunset over the Avenue of the Baobabs, the Treasure Island awaits you for a unique experience and an unforgettable adventure.

Increased security measures and assistance system for tourists

Security forces are mobilized throughout the country to ensure the safety of citizens and visitors.
